CHURCHES WERE WELL FILLED

Easter Sunday Was Observed In Sonoma's Places of Worship.

In all the Sonoma churches, the joyous day of the Resurrection was celebrated and Easter this year was a perfect day with blue sky and warm sunshine.

The early mass at St. Francis church was well attended and Rev. T. P. Moran after a long illness celebrated the mass. The church was truly beautiful in its decorations of flowers, a large cross of white lilies being conspicious on the altars. The 10:30 High Mass was celebrated by a visiting priest, there was an augmented choir and a large attendance.

The Congregational church was a symposium of beauty in Bankshire reses and iris. The organ was presided over by Miss Emily Poppe and violin accompaniment by Ralph Busby added to the choir effect. Rev. Cookman preached a fine sermon appropriate to the day. In the evening the Eastern Star ladies attended in a body and made an imposing impression as they listened to the fine theme appropriately chosen by the pastor.

The Methodist church had both morning and evening services and the church never looked prettier in its floral adornment. Rev. Waltz delivered two excellent sermons, speaking at night to the Masons and Odd Fellows of Sonoma's Lodges. Miss Myrtle Minkel and Clark Gaines sang.

GRANDSON OF VALLEJO WEDS

Carlos Emparan Claims Miss Agnes Moss As His Bride On Thursday.

On Thursday at the parish house of the beautiful St. Francis de Sailles church in Oakland, Carlos Emparan, son of Mrs. Lulu Emparan and grandson of the late Gen. M. G. Vellejo, claimed Miss Agnes Moss of Geyserville as his bride. A quiet but beautiful ceremony was performed by Rev Father Millett in the presence of the immediate relatives and close friends of the couple. The bride looked charming in a modish traveling suit of blue with becoming furs and chic hat. She was attended by Miss Florence Green, bridesmaid, and Mrs. Lulu V. Emparan, matron of honor.

After the ceremony amid hearty congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Emparan departed for Kansas City on a honeymoon.

The bride is a handsome and popular girl, well known here and the groom is a young man of excellent traits and holds a fine position with the railroad. They will reside in Oakland.

Sonoma's Drive On For Victory Loan Quota

LOCAL HEADQUARTERS ESTABLISHED AT FIRST NATIONAL BANK AND JAMES F. TATE IS CHAIRMAN OF CAMPAIGN.

Sonoma Valley's part in raising our $122,850 quota for the Victory Loan, whereby Uncle Sam is to help pay his war debts and put the country on a reconstruction basis, is in full swing and from the headquarters at the First National Bank, much good work is emanating under the able direction of chairman Jas. F. Tate and the executive committee composed of Messrs N. J. Heggie, F. T. Duhring, H. F. Bates and Otto Wagner. Miss Bessie Venton is the secretary in charge.

District Captains have already been appointed and as many former fine workers have been chosen, it is presumed the districts will give a good account of themselves under the spirited appeal of the following district leaders;

Dunbar, Ben Behler; El Verano, Archie Gale; Flowery, Fred Boynton; Tule Vista, Mrs. Frank Thompson; San Luis, Mrs. Grover Rubke; Watmaugh, Miss Alice Young; Huichica, Mrs. C. S. Cutter; Glen Ellen, Leopold Justi; Sonoma No. 1, Mr. H. F. Bates; Sonoma No. 2, Mrs. Rodney Prestwood; Sonoma State Home, R. Q. Wickham.

B. S. Cole is publicity chairman and the local banks, High School and others are to bring home the necessity of buying these bonds to every patriotic citizen through splendid advertisements, such as appear in today's Index-Tribune.

Up to yesterday at noon, of the $122,850 to be raised here only $4900 has so far been bought through the Sonoma Valley Bank and $2900 from the First National Bank.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Prof. L. H. Golton reports a highly instructive and inspiring session of High School principals at Avalon and he is glad that he attended. Mr. Golton states that the new State Superintendent, Will C. Wood, is putting into effect many new and practical ideas in high school training. After comparing reports and talking with other principals as to the scope of work being done elsewhere, Mr. Golton states that the Sonoma High School scholarship is exceptionally good considering the equipment and lack of many necessary facilities which other schools possess.

Prof. Golton is a constructive educator and advocates civics as a subject for which credit should be given High School students in order that practical interest in citizenship might be stimulated and the community enriched by the activity which would necessarily follow.

Dave Eraldi will be united in marriage to Miss Annie DeVencenzi in San Francisco today. Sonoma friends extend hearty congratulations.

SAW BEAR FLAG RAISED HERE

T. C. Elliot of Lake County Visits Sonoma After Many Years. Lived Near The Mission in 1846. Mother Contributed Material For Bear Flag.

T. C. Elliot, whose father and mother came to California in 1845 across the plains from Missouri and brought him, a boy of 8 years to Sonoma in 1846, revisited the scenes of his boyhood this week. Mr. Elliot had not been here for sixty years and was much surprised at the changed appearance of the plaza, town and surrounding country. He missed the old adobe landmark on the north east corner of the plaza which was his home when a boy and he marveled at the great growth of trees in the plaza and the many new varieties which had replaced the old familiar oaks, pine and fig trees, throughout the valley.

Mr. Elliot's father was hauling lumber from Bodega bay to Sonoma on the 15th of June, 1846 and about daylight came across the Bear Flag party, among which was his brother-in-law, Ben Dewell. They hailed him and told him of the purpose of that fateful day which proved to be the turning point in California's history. His mother, Elizabeth Elliot, provided flannel which was used in the making of the flag. It was a makeshift emblem of white canvas with a bear painted upon it by Wm. Todd, whose replica of the animal was so grotesque that the Mexicans called it a "hog". The strip furnished by Elliot's mother was not her flannel petticoat as some historians state, but was new material which was to have been made into a petticoat.

In the stirring scenes of that day, when General Vallejo, as the Commandante of the Mexican government was taken prisoner, Elliot's father actively participated. The Bear Flag party took over the town and a few days later the American formal occupancy was a reality.

Mr. Elliot in reminiscing of pioneer days said as a boy he was impressed with the memory of how beef was butchered right on the plaza by the Mexicans and also remembered the sudden death of the man who operated the cannon on the hill which protected the town, the gunner having died of heart failure on the door steps of the Elliot adobe. This man was buried from the old mission and the funeral procession wended its way out Spain St. to the town cemetery.

Mr. Elliot and his son-in-law, J. T. Butler of Lakeport, came to town Tuesday night and stayed until Wednesday. They were in an automobile which Elliot says beats the old ox teams of 1840 all hollow. He predicts that airplanes will be popular before long and says the next trip he makes to old Sonoma will be in a new model airplane with an up-to-date aviator as his pilot. Mr. Elliot is a rugged looking pioneer and comes from good old Missouri stock.

The Enforcement Orgy

THERE SEEMS to be an orgy of law enforcement effort now that the statute books are cluttered up with everybodys ideas and ideals which apparently cannot be applied. The latest effort in the direction is the power given by the Legislature to the Attorney General to take to himself the job of District Attorney wherever the District Attorney is not prosecuting enough or in the direction in which his critics or a minority, thinks he should extend himself. The majesty of the law is not being helped by making five ringed circuses with the modern reformer as the chief ringmaster. Neither is democracy being helped by centralizing authority or tieing the hands of local authority so that it dare use no just judgment or exercise the discrimination making toward the humanizing of law. Arbitrary opinion is to be forced upon communities and local authority to be so hectored that conscientious men will no longer accept public office to serve a majority constituency which they cannot rightly serve or represent under the new order of things whereby enforcement leagues, new authority and interference is springing up over night to discredit them.

It is all a desperate attempt to enforce ideas which should never be laws, a costly attempt to set in motion forces to overide and intimidate public opinion and nullify authority we have always held to be duly constituted and sufficient for the greatest good of the greatest number. This sort of tinkering with the fundamentals of our social and political fabric is dangerous in the extreme.

Let The People Have a Voice

THERE ARE NOW in circulation referendum petitions whereby 34,433 signatures will be obtained to submit the proposition of prohibition and its enforcement which was thrust upon the State by the Legislature after the people of California had declared themselves against prohibition in no uncertain terms. As our California laws provide that the voice of the people shall be heard, the "wets" are demanding that the law be complied with and that the arbitrary, high handed crusher in effect at Sacramento, be reprimanded. That it will be repudiated is a safe prediction for neither the methods nor the sponsors of the "dry" movement appeal to the loyal, broadminded citizens of the United States who dwell in California.

When you see the words "the Nation goes dry July first" staring you in the face from billboards and newspapers, it makes the average citizen rub his eyes at this new tone of democracy and when we read about spies, detectives and police, to the number of 3,000 extra, to hunt down the nontectotlars, we are prone to compare the U. S. A., as conceived by the 'drys' with the czar and kaiser system.

CLOVERDALE TOO SCRATCHES HEAD!

Cloverdale's street lights will continue to burn. This was decided by unanimous vote Monday night when the Board of Town Trustees took up Trustee Goldman's propositions that the lights be turned off during the long summer evenings in order to reduce expenses in the event of prohibition becoming effective on July "thirst" or in "the sweet dry and dry" as some humorist facetiously wrote of the time when wine, beer and hard liquors may no longer be sold and "King Booze" shall be no more.

When the board convened there were four members present—besides a number of citizens who dropped into the council chamber to express themselves upon this all-important matter. Immediately after President Fleckner called the board to order, Clerk Gibbons read a petition signed by nearly forty citizens, objecting to any action having for its object the turning off of the street lights. An expression of citizens present was called for, and none approved of the plan to prune operating expenses of the town government. Trustee Goldman then stated the proposition had first been considered by the board last October and it was then decided to hold it in abeyance until April of this year, it not being deemed advisable to dispense with street lights during the winter months

There was considerable discussion on ways and means to curtail expenses when the whole United States becomes a vast Sahara once the prohibition amendment is operative. This municipality is confronted with a loss of not less than $1500 annually through cutting off revenue received from the liquor business. To overcome this loss by adding to the taxation of property can be done only in two ways. Superintendent of Public Utilities Connor told the board a part of the deficiency might be met by levying a 10-cent tax for water purposes, but he did not advocate such action. The other alternative suggested was that the assessed valuation of property might be raised, but no one sponsored this plan either. The municipal tax rate has already reached the maximum permitted by law. It was then suggested that the nightwatch, who draws a salary of $85 per month, might have his official head chopped off, an act that most citizens would regret to see, but it would materially aid in meeting a deficiency that confronts the town. Street sprinkling might be reduced some, but there would not be enough saving made from this source alone. The outcome of the discussion was that upon motion of Trustee Imrie, the proposition to dispense with street lights during the summer months was voted down without a dissenting voice. As the treasury is in excellent financial condition for this time of year, the sense of the meeting was that the board would not attempt to "cross the bridge" until it came to it, as there is at least a forlorn hope that prohibition with the wrecking of important industries, will not be thrust upon the country on July 1st."

CAR OVERTURNS, STUDENTS HURT

High School Boys Injured In Auto Accident Saturday While Returning From Ball Game.

As six High School boys were returning from the baseball game at Boyes Springs park last Saturday afternoon in a Dodge car driven by Antone Kiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kiser of Schellville, an accident occured in which the machine turned over and the six boys suffered more or less injury. It was a miracle that some of the occupants of the car were not killed or maimed. As it was Louis Marioni was pinned under the car and when extricated, was unconcious. John Stillings was shaken up and did not come to for some time. Fred Schell was painfully hurt and was unconcious for several hours while young Kiser with Jim Cameron and Victor Clements, the other occupants of the machine, were badly shaken up.

The accident occured near the fateful corner of the Gables, at Verano. It appears that in passing another car coming up the hill toward town that the Kiser car swung too far to the right of the road and as it reached the crest of the hill, struck a sign post and demolished it. Swerving suddenly to get into the road, the Dodge skidded, and in trying to right it, the driver failed to get control and the machine overturned. The Henry Hyde car which the boys had passed a few seconds previous, came to the rescue and the Hydes assisted in raising the car so that young Marioni could be taken from beneath. First aid treatment was given all the injured and the boys then taken to the offices of their family physicians. Marioni was found to be the most seriously injured, Dr. Gobar having to take several stitches in a cut on his head.

The car was badly wrecked and is now in a local garage being repaired. The boys are very thankful that they escaped as fortunately as they did but declare Saturday was a hoo-doo day as their ball team lost out and they were spilled out, all on that unlucky afternoon.

APPRECIATES THIS NEWSPAPER'S COOPERATION

Mr. W. L. Murphy, "Index-Tribune" Sonoma, California.

My dear Mr. Murphy:

I am taking the earliest opportunity to thank you most cordially for the generous and sustained support given the Internal Revenue Collection Service in this District during the Income Tax drive under the new Revenue Act.

In common with other officials, I am not unmindful of the heavy calls that are constantly being made upon newspapers in the way of gratuitous publicity resulting from the exigencies of the war.

I am sure that the stimulus given the Income Tax campaign through your news columns and editorials has assisted greatly in the collection of taxes for which there is such urgent need at this time.

Respectfully,
Justus S. Wardell
Collector.

DR. PHILLIPS GIVES AID TO INJURED MAN

Rinaldo Traversi, who last week was buncoed out of $1700 at Stockton, on Saturday evening fell from his motorcycle while he was returning from the Cheda ranch on the Sonoma mountains and seriously injured his left hand. The tips of several of the fingers were amputated by being caught in the machine.

Soon after the accident, Traversi started to hike to the Cheda ranch when he was picked up by Coroner F. H. Phillips and party, who were on their way to Sonoma. Dr. Phillips took the injured man to the Cheda home and Dr. Hays of Sonoma was called to attend him. —Argus.

C. Clementi has been in Sacramento in the interest of his claim for damages growing out of the accident to his auto at Black Point bridge last June. It was a complete loss having been precipitated into Petaluma Creek by the inadvertent raising of the bascule bridge as its driver was going across at night.

Frank Engler and Tom Farquar of Glen Ellen have arrived in New York from overseas.

Two trained nurses are in attendance. Mrs. Calanchini's little girl is with Mrs. P. F. Magoria. Mr. Calanchini arrived here last night from Ferndale and willreturn later with his wife and family. —Pet. Courier.

TOOK PART IN THE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Hatton Do The Honors At The Marriage of Nephew At Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hatton had the delightful experience Monday of being surprised by their nephew, Geo. Brugge who motored here with his bride-to-be, Miss Lena Maestrette of Napa and asked them to accompany them to Santa Rosa for a quiet wedding ceremony. In the party also were Mrs. Burg the groom's mother and his sister Miss Thelma Burg of Alameda. They all went up to the county seat and with Mr. Hatton as best man, City Recorder Collins of Santa Rosa tied the knot. A fine wedding breakfast was then enjoyed and later the bridal party returned to Sonoma and were entertained by the Hattons at supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Burg will reside in Gridley where Mr. Burg is in the automobile business. He formerly had a garage in Napa.

SOLDIER PROTESTS PROHIBITION

Clarence Merlinjones Writes From Across Sea To Uncle and Expresses Opinion on Drastic Legislation.

From across the sea the voice of a young American soldier, attached to Base Hospital No. 30, protests against the prohibition legislation recently enacted. First Sergeant Clarence Merlinjones writes to his uncle, Judge Leopold Justi of Glen Ellen as follows;

Clisson, Loire Inf., Mar. 9, 1919.

My dear Uncle:

It is with deep chagrin that I hear of such drastic legislation being carried out in the states while so many of us are across the ocean in a foreign land and unable to have any voice in the matter. In particular I refer now to prohibition—a great and revolutionary step—driven through with all might while a deciding majority of votes were dis-enfranchised. This seems to me only a splendid example of rule by the minority, so typical of the American system of government.

To destroy a man's business—which had up to a certain date and hour been not only licensed, but encouraged and tax payers good money spent in fostering this business. is simply confiscation of property, a thing opposed to the Constitution of the United States. It is most unfair to the grape raisers of California—those who have eeked out an existance on rocky hillside lands, unsuitable for raising anything except wine grapes—not even a decent mortgage."

The young man is a son of a former editor of the Index-Tribune, Rev I. Merlinjones, now editing a Masonic paper in the Middle West. His grandfather Justi was one of the earliest wine makers and one of the best Sonoma Valley ever boasted—some wine made by the senior Justi being yet among the rare Sonoma vintage of today.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MILTON SOBBE

Mrs. James T. Butler of Orchard street, Santa Rosa recently entertained in honor of Milton Sobbe, a returned soldier of Glen Ellen, who has many friends in this city. Vocal and instrumental music were enjoyed and those present had the pleasure of social conversation. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Among the Glen Ellenites present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edrington Miss Reah Edrington, Mrs. Small, Miss Ethel Small, Miss Eileen Cowan and Ernest Sobbe. Ralph Busby of Sonoma was present and the following from Santa Rosa: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ridley, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Ridley, Miss Lida Showers, Mrs. Murphy and others. —Republican.
